

ABOUT INTAKE

We're a friend-and-family owned athletic company based out of Santa Barbara, California that's dedicated to helping everyone find their happiest, healthiest body. We launched in 2018 with our first generation product, a magnetic nasal breathing band that our users tell us is--not to toot our own horn--the best on the market in terms of oxygen flow, comfort, and durability. Our original design was conceived by athlete and medical entrepreneur Jim Castillo (if you've ever been in need of a knee brace, you can thank him for designing the most widely-used model), and since then has been adapted for maximum comfort and wearability.

